Botox Training Course

Botox Injection Training Course for Doctors and Nurses

What is botox? Generally, botox is the most popular non-surgical cosmetic treatment, with more than 6 million Botox treatments administered each year. To be specific, it is a neurotoxin derived from Clostridium botulinum, an organism found in the natural environment where it is largely inactive and non-toxic. Botox injection treatment is used to cosmetically remove wrinkles by temporarily paralyzing muscles. Our comprehensive Botox cosmetic injection course for nurses and doctors will give you the tools and confidence you need to become a leading Medical Aesthetics Injector and take control of your career!

We realize that taking a Filler Training course is a once in a lifetime experience. As such, it will be the foundation you lean back on for your entire career in Botox and filler injections. We take your trust very seriously and our raison d'être is to provide you with the best quality education and practice you could ever get. We firmly believe the quality you get with our course is superior to others. You will see and treat a high volume of REAL Botox and filler CLIENTS (rather than non-human training models) with REAL aesthetic CONCERNS.

You will not leave the course until we are confident in your mastery of the art of safe and effective filler injection. You will go out ready for independent practice to deliver the best and most effective care. A filler practice success is highly dependent on the client's comfort and rapport with the injector. Therefore, choosing the right course will set you up with a rewarding and lucrative career that is built on satisfied repeat clients who will do your marketing for you.

Generally speaking, filler injection is a treatment designed to inject substances beneath the skin of the face to add volume, fullness and facial contours. There are a variety of fillers treatments including juvederm fillers, hyaluronic acid fillers and marionette lines fillers. Dermal filler is a procedure that requires specific training, knowledge and technique to ensure a high-quality and natural-looking result. The effects of the treatment depend on not only the products and patients but also the medical injectors.

Therefore, here in Regina, we provide you professional filler injection training course for doctors and nurses.
